

Q67. A store intends to use public key cryptography so that it may receive orders from customers through a network without exposing the contents of the orders to third parties. Which of the following is the appropriate combination of keys used by both the store and customer?

	Store	Customer
a	Private key	Private key b	Private key	Public key c	Public key	Private key d	Public key	Public key