

Q62. Which of the following is an appropriate explanation concerning functions of keywords in SQL?

- a) “HAVING” specifies a search condition for an aggregate or a group.
- b) “INDEX” is a special way to join two or more tables.
- c) “LIKE” is used along with JOIN clause.
- d) “VALUES” is used to sort the data in ascending or descending order.