Q56. An implementation plan for a system development project was drawn up, and the critical path was determined. Which of the following tasks can be identified by the critical path?

a) Tasks directly connected with the delay of the entire project
b) Tasks entailing the highest cost
c) Tasks in which the greatest care should be exercised in terms of system quality
d) Tasks where the execution sequence can be changed